CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Petitions for woman suffrage were presented from various States to the Senate and by Mr. Hoar, from citizens of Massachusetts (of whom 10,309 are residents of Boston).

Mr. Hawley presented one for civil service reform.

Mr. Morgan, from the Committee on Public Lands, reported favorably, with amendments, on the bill granting the right of way over public lands in Alabama, and to grant lands to said State, in aid of the Gulf and Chicago Air Line Railway Company.

BI-METALLISM.

BERLIN, Feb. 7.—It is stated that the German government will not adhere to any arrangement for the adoption of an International Bi-metallic standard, without the concurrence of England.

SMALL-POX INCREASING IN MEMPHIS.

MEMPHIS, Feb. 7.—Thirteen cases of small-pox have been reported to the Board of Health within the past 48 hours. Fifteen cases in all have been sent to the pest-house, three of whom have died.

THE ANTI-MONOPOLISTS.

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—A call has been issued for a State convention, to be held in Springfield, March 15, for the purpose of organizing the State and placing every county in charge of an intelligent, energetic and discreet committee, to detect, report and prosecute every violation of laws by corporations, and to adopt such measures as shall insure justice being done the people by agents of the law, who have its enforcement in hand.

THE ASHLAND MURDERERS.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 7.—A special dispatch to the Times-Star from Catlettsburg, Ky., says: Wm. Neal was to-day sentenced to be hanged April 14, for the murder of Fannie Gibbons, at Ashland, Ky. Neal made a speech, protesting his innocence. Ellis Craft, who was convicted Saturday, will be sentenced to-morrow, probably to be executed on the same day as Neal.

HOW GITEAU TAKES IT.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 7.—John W. Giteau said this evening: "I have just returned from the jail where I spent three hours with my brother. He was feeling well, was cool and collected and in good humor. He astonished me; I don't know what to make of him; he don't seem to be disturbed a particle. He has $45 in money, which he made by selling his autograph."

OVERFLOW.

Immigration.—Encouraging Words for the Cause.

BRANDON, MISS., Jan. 23, 1882.

Maj. E. G. Wall :

DEAR SIR—I have been reading of late the reports of most of the Commissioners of Immigration from different States of the Union, and their plans of bringing foreign immigration to the United States, and none of them comes as near the standard in my opinion, as your recent suggestions published in the New Orleans Times and other papers. I have conversed with many large land owners in this and other sections of the country, and they fully endorse your plans and suggestions. I represent about 24,000 acres of land in Rankin county, and tracts of from 160 to 500 acres that I would sell on very reasonable terms, giving from one to four years time to pay for them, and other large land owners in this county will sell on the same terms.

A letter from Mr. Hill, a banker of Michigan, states that he will send a man down here as soon as spring opens, to locate and purchase lands in this county, if pleased with the country. I think, with proper encouragement, a large number of settlers could be induced to come here. Wishing you great success in your good work,

I am yours very truly,
T. D. HARRIS.

[Jasper County Review.]

We think it would be great injustice to the "cow" counties to deny them the right to have a representative, for it is to these same "cow" counties that always roll up the Democratic majorities in every State election, and they are always counted on heavily to furnish the votes.

WHAT'S the use of telling the boy whose new pair of skates hang idle in the sultry atmosphere, that life is worth living.

"My Lord," said the foreman of an Irish jury, when given in the verdict, "we find the man who stole the horse not guilty."

Letter From Rev. W. L. C. Hunnicutt

FOREIGN IMMIGRATION.

EDITORS CLARION: The minds of thousands of our people are greatly exercised on the subject of immigration. Those who cannot move to somebody else, want somebody else to move to them. Like the flying fish, anywhere else and anyhow else than where and as they are, would suit them better. The Legislature of Mississippi is begged to do something to encourage immigration and many members favor the appropriation of money for this purpose. This is one of the cases, it appears to me, where it is better to "endure the ills we have, than fly to others that we know not of." The negro as a laborer is not satisfactory in all respects; yet I doubt not he is the best the world can furnish for the place he fills. His ignorance and thriftlessness prevent him from competing with us in the accumulation of property, and keep him subject to hire as a laborer. Had we had for laborers since our late war men of equal intelligence with ourselves, they would by this time have become owners of almost all the land in the country. The negro will not work very well without some compulsion other than moral obligation; nor will any other hired laborer in the world. The negro will steal articles of small value, especially trinkets to eat. While he was a slave he doubtless thought that what he ate, he had made, and that it only strengthened him the more to work for the master who owned both the food and the eater. It is not strange that such habits should be still at times improperly indulged. But we cannot judge him for such acts as we should judge ourselves. Wholesome laws have repressed thieving to a very large extent. We may hope moreover that the morals of the colored race are improving.

As a rule the negro is easy to command, and feels no degradation in serving. Of all the laborers in the world I suppose the negro is the most willing and inoffensive. He never envies or bears malice, and rarely plots to rob or kill. Had we had any other race of people in their place, I doubt whether we should not have been destroyed long since.

But what about the much coveted foreign immigration? Whoever invites, or begs, or hires foreigners to come to this country, will get more than he bargains for, and will not be pleased with the surplus; unless he be a land speculator, or a speculator in something else whose interests are not identical with those of the great body of our people. Pick and choose as you may, four out of five foreign immigrants will be such as we do not want. They will have no sympathy with our laws, our customs or our religion. They will be such people as cannot be assimilated to our society, and are not
